C F C } Intro
I've got a moon out my window in the night.

C F G7
And I've got a sun out my doorway when it gets light.

C F C F
I've got stones on the mountain and a clear, blue, wind-swept sky.

C B^b F G
Thank you, Lord,

B^b F C
You made it right, you made it right.

I've got a family who loves me when I'm gone.
I've got stars to find me the way back home.
I've got rain in the morning when I'm stranded all alone.
Thank you, Lord.
You made it right, you made it right.

GUITAR VERSE

I've been standin' on a hillside in the night.
And I've been singin' 'bout the good things and the light.
There's a new star on the horizon and it nearly fills the sky.
Thank you, Lord.
You made it right, you made it right.

There's a new star on the horizon and it nearly fills the sky.
Thank you, Lord.
You made it right, you made it right.

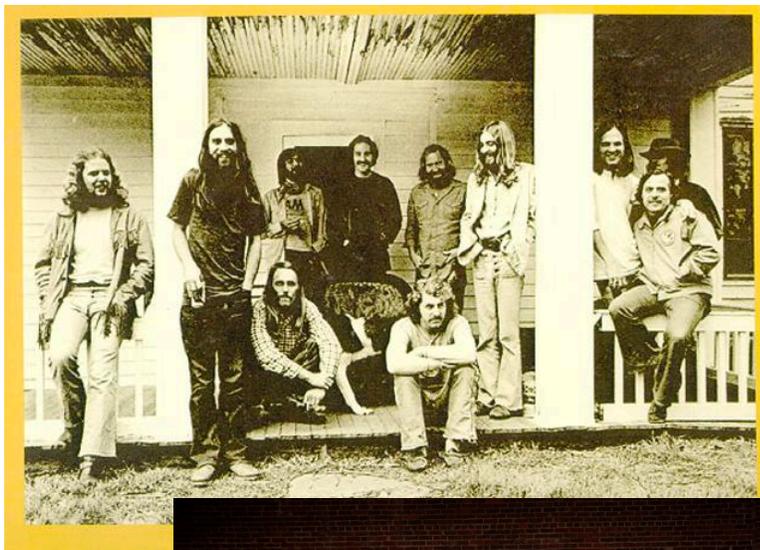

History of the Band

With eight albums selling over two million records and worldwide hits like "Jackie Blue" and "If You Want To Get To Heaven" the Ozark Mountain Daredevils have come a long way from the Missouri bars and porches where their music was born. It all began for the Daredevils in 1971 when a collection of singer songwriters from the Springfield area put together a band as an outlet for their songwriting. They Played their first gig near the end of 1971 and, in the spring of the following year, went into the studio to make a demo tape. The tape came to the attention of David Anderle at A&M Records, who liked what he heard and passed the tape on to A&M president, Jerry Moss. This resulted in the band signing to A&M with Anderle and Glyn Johns producing, thus the Daredevils were off to London to make their first album at the famed Olympic Studios. This first album contained the smash hit "If You Wanna Get To Heaven" written by Cash and Dillon, and produced a gold album. The pop "Jackie Blue", written by Cash and Larry Lee, came from the second album "It'll Shine When It Shines", and was a top-five worldwide record.

The band has made subsequent albums, and continues to build their audience through records and touring across the U.S. and Canada, performing for their large cult following. The band was described by Rolling Stone Magazine as "A mixture of Country, Appalachia, the south, and Rock & Roll".

In recent times The Ozark Mountain Daredevils have taken on a different appearance and size. The band has been performing, and will continue to tour as a nine-piece group. The new arrangement is: John Dillon - Original Member; Michael "Supe" Granda - Original Member; Steve Cash - Original Member; Ron Grep - Drummer for 22 years; Dave Painter - Lead Guitar and Vocals since 2004; Kelly Brown - Keyboards and Vocals since 2007; Bill Jones - Horns and Flute (Bill is the player that was on the albums from the 1970's); Ruell Chappell - Vocals and Percussion (Ruell was the second keyboard player for the band in the 1970's); Nick Sibley - Rhythm Guitar, Mandolin and Vocals.

This new arrangement has a very full and exciting sound with a lot of the old magic rejuvenated. Great comments have come from the fans about how cool it is and that it is really a fun band. We are pleased that this is good for the band and the fans.
